Nazis Had Warning But Raid Succeeded

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The newspaper Aftonbladet quoted a German underground radio today as saying the Nazis massed 60 per cent of their total fighter strength Thursday in a futile effort to prevent U.S. bombers from reaching the vital ball-bearing plants at Schweinfurt (where the plants were described as "obliterated").

The broadcast said the German secret service got five hours' warning of the raid and that planes were called from hundreds of fields in the Reich and France.

The same correspondent says that in Italy, the Nazis intend to evacuate Rome since "the Germans are scared to challenge the whole Catholic world by changing the Holy City into a battlefield."

Should Canada Operate Merchant Fleet, Or Depend on Other Nations After War?

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA—A major question pressing for cabinet decision is whether Canada should lay plans now to compete with the United States in postwar maritime rivalry.

Dispatches forecast Washington's intention of having U.S. and the war as a great maritime power. The huge mercantile fleet built since the war began to transport American troops and supplies and to carry lend-lease materials, are to become commercial ambassadors of the United States to the four corners of the globe.

Canada also will end the war with a large merchant fleet built for war purposes. Problem is whether this fleet, like that of the United States, should seek to blaze new ocean trails for Canada's export industry, or whether it should be dispersed to private buyers.

MEMORIES OF LAST WAR

LOSSES The problem is complicated by memories of disastrous sums lost to the public treasury following the last war in the attempt to operate a government-owned mercantile fleet.

NEW MARITIME INTEREST

Tendency to forget this unhappy experience—the bill which the old government merchant marine left on the doorstep of the national treasury was a cool $100,000,000—stems from the fact that a new maritime interest has been created on both sea coasts in the present war by the activity of both shipping and ship building upon them. These maritime interests argue the logical thing for Canada to do when the war ends will be to carry on a great ocean-going commerce, and to transport Canadian goods to world markets, using Canadian ships.

OPPOSITION

Opposition to this policy comes not only from sources interested in conserving the national treasury for other purposes than large ocean transportation subsidies, but also from a wide range of manufacturing and exporting industries. Generally speaking, exporting interests want to keep postwar costs down in Canada, and they do not favor squandering a large sum upon a merchant marine.

Moreover, they point out that if the Dominion wishes to carry on an export trade it must be prepared to accept payment in the form of some goods or services from its customers. Shipping service, these interests contend, is something which Canada should be content to allow the great traditionally maritime nations to carry on as a partial offset against Canadian exports.

TRAMPS AND TRADE

Opponents of the policy of a postwar government merchant marine argue further that the government's experience following World War I demonstrated the difficulty of a government service competing with tramp steamers of private lines.

Canadian government merchant marine ships, it is pointed out, were restricted to certain routes and schedules, and if they could not always find full cargoes on both their outward-bound and homeward-bound voyages, it was just their misfortune. Tramp ships flying the flags of private companies, however, were under no such restrictions. They could accept any cargoes for any destination—and after sailing from Montreal or British Columbia for a foreign port, it might be months, or even years, before they would turn up in a Canadian port again. Meanwhile they would have been spending their time carrying profitable cargoes.

Despite this experience, it is widely known on Parliament Hill that some members of the government hold strongly that if Canada is to have a large post-war export trade—especially with South America—it must furnish the shipping to carry it on. Problem is admittedly complex, but the government is said to have determined that some conclusion upon it must be reached in time to formulate a policy for the coming session of Parliament.

Nazi Radios Silenced

NEW YORK (AP)—German-controlled radios in Holland, Calais, France, and Bremen, Germany, went off the air today at 7 a.m., P.D.T., U.S. government radio monitors said. Such radio blackout often indicates air raids.

Navy Boys Whisper to Santa

If you're wondering what to give for Christmas to that sailor sweetheart, brother or son of yours, here's what the navy boys at Prince Robert House are whispering to Santa Claus.

"A turtle neck sweater, heads all their requests. Also tops with the navy boys, especially those on the east coast or Atlantic convoy, are heavy Indian socks, mitts and Balalaeva helmets. Next in order of importance, according to some of these veterans of three Christmases at sea, are bedroom slippers, toilet articles and shaving kits that are small and easily packed, and sewing kits.

Food parcels, providing they contain no perishable items, are also most acceptable, they say. These packages should contain canned meats, sandwich spread and hot chocolates.

"Best of all," said a Weyburn veteran, "are things with which we can make sandwiches when we come off watch. They are always in demand."

"But," he added, "anything that spoils is out. Families should bear in mind that it is sometimes three months and more before our parcels catch up with us. You can imagine what cookies and cakes look like after that long."

CANDY AND CIGARETTES NOT WANTED

Surprisingly enough, chocolate bars aren't wanted, and neither is candy in any form. The sailors say "that stuff" is left lying around untouched.

Also low on the navy's list to Santa Claus are pipes, cigarettes—they can be bought aboard ship at 25 cents a flat 50—writing paper and chewing gum. It's against some last-century regulations to chew gum, although some of the lads admit getting away with it occasionally aboard ship.

Subscriptions to magazines, they say, are always welcome, and so are books to augment the ship's library. Favorite magazines are Life, Pic, in fact, any of the illustrated magazines.

Stores Here Face Unprecedented Holiday Jam

Victoria retail stores, transportation systems and the buying public face the most critical Christmas shopping problems in the city's history, Chamber of Commerce officials said today.

Stores already are operating with sharply reduced staffs, while the number of customers has increased tremendously, officials declared. Population in the urban area of Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich has risen approximately 40 per cent over peacetime figures. The civilian population now stands at 88,000. This, with the army, navy, and air force personnel brings the total to around 100,000.

These new inhabitants, plus increased buying by all residents, have increased in the same proportion the number of customers using the city's retail stores. They have also added to transportation difficulties. Street car and bus passengers have soared in number, with street car and motor bus lines unable to get additional equipment. With buses and street cars already crowded to capacity, there is now to be faced the added load with the coming Christmas shopping season, and with it the usual influx of year-end visitors.

Smaller stores report trouble in obtaining help to meet the rush.

"Only among wives of servicemen, many of whom worked in the big eastern department stores before they were married," said one employer, "do we find suitable saleswomen. True, there are still girls unemployed, but many are not the type we want."

"Biggest shortages," said Hugh Francis, chairman of the retail merchants' section, Chamber of Commerce, "are in such gift lines as linens, leather goods, electrical supplies, costume jewelry and silverware. Already there is an increase over the corresponding period last year in purchases for overseas shipment."

Added to the Christmas rush problem is the fact that shopping by service personnel, along with sharply increased buying by all residents, is rapidly consuming dwindling stocks. All of which means that shoppers, stores and transportation are entering the Christmas season with serious difficulties on all sides.

"The buying public can help in this crisis by getting Christmas shopping completed early and by starting immediately. A late buying rush will put dangerous loads in the way of the community's efforts to carry the strain of greatly increased war activities."

Lightning Strikes Saanich Home, House Door Nearby Scorched

Lightning, striking F. C. McPherson's home, 2832 Parkview Drive, blasted away the chimney above the roof line, blew out radio and refrigerator equipment, burst water pipes in the vicinity and started a roof blaze in the new dwelling about 9.15 today.

The damage was heaviest of any reported early today in the electrical squall which helped swell water stored at Jordan River, transformed some streets, where drains were leaf-clogged, into shallow lakes, and drenched shoppers in the downtown district.

The lightning bolt which struck the McPherson home, hit in a sheet of flame, according to neighbors who said the upper part of the chimney exploded. At the roof line it apparently jumped to a ventilator pipe. The aerial of the neighboring house was smashed, fuses were blown generally in the McPherson home and fire started in the roof. Saanich firemen worked quickly to bring the blaze under control.

About a block away Mrs. Fred Wilkinson, 2836 Heath Drive, reported the woodwork around her screen door scorched, apparently by lightning.

Mrs. McPherson, standing by the electric stove at the time, gathered her daughter, nine-year-old Ann, and another child, and rushed out.

LITTLE CITY DAMAGE

In the city, G. M. Irwin, city engineer, reported little damage from the downpour which moved in from the west.

A. T. Goward, B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., vice-president, who had appealed to the public to restrict use of electrical current until the water supply at Jordan River was built up, expressed some satisfaction with the rain.

"The condition is better, but we are not out of the woods yet," he said.

The company reported some hits by lightning, but had no material damage registered.

B.C. Telephone Company officials listed no unusual increase in the number of trouble calls.

The Gonzales Hill Observatory was unable to report on the precipitation pending authority from Ottawa to resume reports on weather conditions.

Moscow Meeting to Play Big Part In Nazi Defeat, Says Soviet Paper

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia, Soviet government newspaper, today said the coming three-power Moscow conference would play an important part in organizing the final defeat of Germany.

The newspaper said military questions must come before other problems such as postwar cooperation, as did Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, in a recent issue, and declared that "undoubtedly the question of decisive reduction in the length of the war and of victory in the shortest possible time is tied up inseparably with the problem of opening a second front in western Europe."

AGREEMENTS FORESEEN

The article reflected confidence that an accord could be reached on military and political questions.

Another sign of a generally warm atmosphere for the conference of British, U.S. and Soviet officials was given in Premier Stalin's meeting Friday night with Donald Nelson, chief of the U.S. war production board, to survey Soviet production. Stalin, who spent much time last summer and this fall on the front, has been accessible to foreign visitors but rarely recently.

Izvestia indicated the Russians are willing to discuss problems of peace as well as war.

"Of course questions of post-war organization are very important to Allied countries and it is necessary even now in a period of war to prepare and settle many economic and political problems," the paper commented. "But events follow their own logic. The peaceful period is preceded by the more or less coordinated conduct and conclusion of the war. A solution of post-war problems can be successful, provided everything is done in wartime political and economic relations for hastening of this postwar period."

NAZIS FAILING

Declaring the "German policy of playing with controversies is already exhausted and achieved opposite results during the course of the war," Izvestia said the Hitlerite camp was "screaming hysterically about 'irreconcilable controversies' among the Allies now in order to calm the German people."

The article did not mention the question of Soviet frontiers or the status of the Baltic states which Pravda previously had said could not be discussed, and the Izvestia comment generally was more optimistic and conciliatory.

Reciting a long list of military and political developments favorable to Allied co-operation, Izvestia said the Red Army's offensive and Allied Mediterranean successes, had put the Hitlerite coalition "on the verge of ruin."

French Patriots Active

MADRID (AP)—A wave of terrorism and political assassinations, which has disturbed southern France for weeks, has now spread to the part of northern France occupied by the Germans, the French royalist newspaper Action Francaise said today. La Carraone of Toulouse reported at the same time that guerrillas operating in the upper Savoy department of France Wednesday had killed one of their own leaders.

5th Army Throws Several Bridges Across Volturno

LONDON (CP)—Radio France at Algiers said today the Germans were in full retreat north of the Volturno River on the road to Rome.

German forces have withdrawn to the mountains under protection of artillery fire in order to avoid encirclement by heavily reinforced Allied formations, the broadcast added.

It said that roads, bridges and military installations had been destroyed before the Nazis evacuated their lines.

Towns Wrested From Germans

By NOLAN NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS (AP)—Allied 5th Army troops, knifing deeper north of the Volturno and Calore Rivers against fierce counterattacks, have captured Calzo and Amorosi, and the Germans appear to be trying to break away from their positions near the mouth of the Volturno, Allied headquarters announced today.

Calzo, in the hills a mile north of the Volturno, and Amorosi, five miles away on the east bank, give the Allies control of the area in the junction of the two rivers, where the Volturno bends northward. Bitter fighting raged in this sector.

Crashing speedily through heavy enemy resistance in central Italy, the British 8th Army seized the vital road junctions of Vinchiaturo and Campobasso, striking into position to menace the whole flank of the Nazi defenders on the Volturno line.

(The Canadian 1st Division, operating as the left wing of the 8th Army, has been reported fighting in the Campobasso area after a 25-mile march through the mountains, and it was possible they captured that town.

Canadians Capture Road Junction Town

William Stewart, Canadian Press war correspondent, said the Canadians had made the greatest gain of their Italian campaign by capturing a hill town on a road junction, and Maurice Desjardins, also a Canadian Press war correspondent, named the Campobasso area as the scene of Canadian operations.)

Official reports from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's front line headquarters indicated the Germans apparently were trying to disengage from close-quarter combat, especially near the mouth of the Volturno, where British units, which recently landed in amphibious action, now are strongly entrenched.

So far, despite sharp counterattacks to cover such withdrawal, the enemy has been unable to succeed because of constant attacks by British and U.S. troops.

Several bridges now have been thrown across the river, and the 5th Army poured heavy equipment, including tanks, over the waterway.

No Standing Trees Being Fallen In Cathedral Grove

Premier John Hart said today owners of Cathedral Grove are considering other locations offered them by the government in exchange for the famed stand of timber on the highway to Port Alberni.

He was commenting on a report that the Port Alberni and District Board of Trade is objecting to further cutting "of standing trees" in the grove. Mr. Hart said only dead standing trees and trees are being cut up at present for fuel, that "nothing green is being cut."

"Negotiations are going on, but these things take time," the Premier said.

In Vancouver conservationists are protesting to the government the threatened cutting of timber on Hollyburn Ridge. This area is owned by California banking interests.

The Port Alberni trade board is asking Lands Minister Wells Gray to give a public statement on Cathedral Grove negotiations to date. Mr. Gray is expected in Victoria Monday after a week on the mainland.

CHEERFUL CHARLIE

Yes, Charlie, things are going much better. Let's keep it that way. They're not going well enough to let up on our saving. The more weapons we give our boys, the sooner we'll welcome them home again. Keep that in mind when you're asked to buy Fifth Victory Loan Bonds.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO ROME—FOR ALLIES—As Italy declared war against Germany, Anglo-American forces continued to forge ahead on the road to Rome, making gains that considerably tightened the pressure on the Germans. Against spasmodic resistance, the British 8th Army—indicated by (8)—gained up to 10 miles along the Adriatic coast to four miles beyond Termoli. The Allied 5th Army—indicated by (5)—gained in the centre and south to threaten the key highway junction of Vinchiaturo and put the Germans' Volturno River defense line in danger of being flanked.

60 Bomber Loss Not Too High In Schweinfurt Raid

By WILLIAM FRYE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assessing the cost of the successful bombing of Schweinfurt, official Washington decided today that the loss of 60 heavy bombers was not an unduly high price to pay for smashing the most important single industrial target in Germany.

This loss was the greatest yet suffered by the United States 8th Air Force Bomber Command. It was several times the 5 per cent frequently cited as the "allowable loss," the rate at which bombing operations cease to be "profitable."

It can be said, nevertheless, that the loss was below the "calculated risk" accepted before the attack was undertaken.

TELLING BLOW

In a formal statement, Gen. H. H. Arnold, U.S. Army Air Force chief, Friday termed Schweinfurt, where the heavy bombers were said to have obliterated three ball and roller-bearing plants, a "heart damaging blow to the entire German war production and machinery maintenance program."

Against the loss of 60 heavy bombers and 593 crew members, he said, must be balanced the fact that the Schweinfurt plants produced at least 50 per cent of the ball bearings made in German-occupied Europe, 75 per cent of those made in Germany itself—bearings essential in vast amounts for the manufacture and use of airplanes, submarines, tanks, torpedoes, trucks and other rolling equipment.

And at a press-radio conference, President Roosevelt said that while the loss of 60 heavy bombers was heavy, he saw little chance that losses over an extended period would exceed the additions of new planes to the air force.

IN MONTHLY PERIODS

The point made by the President was elaborated in other official quarters as being the heart of the "allowable loss" question—the "allowable" can be figured mathematically for an extended period, and if the importance of a single objective justifies the risk, the commander can choose to risk in a little attack his numerical "allowable" for—say—an entire month.

Viewing the Schweinfurt attack from this viewpoint, official experts say there are two pertinent questions—and they supply the answer:

Can the United States replace the losses? Yes; the planes in a matter of days, the crews more quickly.

Was the objective accomplished? It was. The bearing factories of Schweinfurt, using a high proportion of imported precision machinery not replaceable in Germany, are out of operation, certainly for months, possibly for good.

Desperate Nazis Battle to Stem Russian Advance

LONDON (CP)—Russian troops are plunging steadily westward across the low flat plains leading to the Crimea in an audacious attempt to entrap upwards of 100,000 Germans reported garrisoning the great peninsula, dispatches from Moscow said today.

Other Red Army forces, having successfully invested Zapozhne, industrial city on the bend of the Dnieper River 65 miles to the north, were battling their way down the railway that leads through Melitopol to the Crimea.

(The BBC, in a broadcast recorded by CBS, quoted front-line dispatches as saying half of the town of Melitopol is in Russian hands.)

Berlin ignored the extreme southern fighting in its communique today, but said strong Soviet forces had launched new attacks southeast of Kremenchug, just above the great bend in the Dnieper River; both north and south of the key city of Kiev; near Chernigov, southwest of Smolensk, and on the northwest front near Velikie Luki.

The Nazi communique claimed all attacks were repulsed either in violent hand-to-hand fighting or by counterattacks.

RECAPTURE 5 TOWNS

Today's Russian communique said a column already had driven the hard-fighting Germans back through five railway towns, including Plavni, 17 miles southeast of Zapozhne.

Far to the north, the Russians were beating in through the outer defences of Kiev, repulsing repeated counterattacks. Red army troops also drove back attacking Germans south of Gomel, in White Russia.

Germans in the Crimea were faced with another threat from the Taman peninsula in the western Caucasus, where strong Soviet forces were reported massing for an amphibious attack across the Kerch Strait and the Black Sea.

NAZIS MOWED DOWN

The communique reported bitter fighting on the middle Dnieper, where massed Russian artillery mowed down fierce counterattacks north and south of Kiev.

Russian planes, commanding the skies over the front, broke up countless German installations, and thwarted all attempts to wreck Russian bridgeheads over the river.

The Germans were also counterattacking south of Gomel, in White Russia, where they were attempting to drive the Russians from the west bank of the Sozh River and relieve pressure on that important rail centre. The Red Army troops stood firm, and then moved forward to strengthen their envelopment of the city, the communique said.

Canadians Miss Sugar Most Gas Second, Butter Third

TORONTO—Morale is a lot of little things—and in Canada it is sugar, car-driving, tea and butter, but mostly sugar.

This does not mean, of course, that Canadian morale is anything but AI, or that Canadians are complaining. It only means that, of all the things they are cutting down on, or doing without because of the war, Canadians miss sugar the most, and by quite a margin.

Morale on the home front, it is generally conceded, is closely linked with the attitude of civilians towards just such wartime factors as shortages and pleasures which in peacetime are taken for granted. For this reason, the response of the Canadian public to the Gallup Poll question: "Of the things you are cutting down on, or doing without, because of the war, which do you miss the most?" has definite significance.

For example, there is significance in the fact that, although sugar was the most frequently mentioned item, it was mentioned by only 30 per cent of the cross-section interviewed. In other words, no one commodity or shortage stands out as an overwhelming "grievance" on the part of the Canadian people.

MANY MISS NOTHING

It is also significant that, although the question deliberately asked for a specific answer, some 21 per cent of the people interviewed or one in every five, could not think of anything they particularly miss in this, the fifth year of war.

For the record, here is the way the national cross-section answered the Poll's question: Sugar 30 per cent, gas, cars, tires 13 per cent; butter 10 per cent, tea 10 per cent, meat 4 per cent, liquor, beer 3 per cent, coffee 2 per cent, miscellaneous 21 per cent, nothing 21 per cent.

The percentages add to more than 100 because some people mentioned more than one item.

WOMEN MISS SUGAR

There are sharp group variations from the national total above. For example, the upper income group misses car-driving more than sugar; farmers miss sugar more than any other single group in the population, and no less than 49 per cent of the farmers interviewed mentioned sugar, compared with only 16 per cent in cities of over 100,000 population. Women miss sugar to a greater degree than do men, although even with the men, sugar tops the list; meat rationing seems to have hit Quebec a bit harder than the other provinces, and Ontario people miss their extra cup of tea far more than do other Canadians.

These group differences seem to point to the fact that one reason for the fact that sugar was so frequently mentioned while many households were still preserving or canning, is possible that the figures might have been somewhat different if the survey had been made in the winter or spring.

The various items mentioned by the public do not, of course, indicate in themselves any dissatisfaction with rationing itself. Previous surveys have shown the reverse to be true, and polls published before the first coupon had been issued showed that, where shortages occurred, the public was overwhelmingly in favor of rationing the commodity involved.

Key Jap Position, New Britain Gets Aerial Pounding

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—New Britain, key Japanese position now exposed to possible invasion from the west by recent successes of Allied forces on nearby New Guinea, is undergoing an aerial pounding the length of its 370-mile-long crescent.

Rabaul, the mighty air fortress and big sea base on the eastern tip, has been ripped and torn by 350 tons of bombs in a single day.

Cape Hoskins' air strip for fighters and for fuelling long range bombers from Rabaul has been reduced to rubble at the middle of the crescent.

At the western tip, the air base of Cape Gloucester, which is only 85 air miles from the nearest Allied New Guinea base, has been blasted by 42 tons, a considerable weight for the size of the target.

SMASHING VICTORY

The biggest force of bombers and fighters ever amassed in the southwest Pacific hit Rabaul last Tuesday, destroying or rendering useless 177 planes and sinking more than 100 ships ranging from destroyers to small harbor craft.

There was no mention of interception by Japanese planes in these latest raids, nor of any Allied losses.

Today's communique also reported a 30-ton raid Thursday on the Madang, New Guinea, area where enemy stores and two fighter planes were wiped out.

Hard-hitting Australian veterans of the 7th Division have advanced a few miles above Dumpu in the upper Ramu valley and are pushing their way up Foothill Spurs leading to the crazy Finisterre range.

The Australian 9th Division is battling the enemy around Sattelberg, six miles inland from the captured coastal base at Finisafen.

England Wins Soccer

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—Tom Lawton of Everton smashed in four goals today as a great England team whipped Scotland 8 to 0 in one of the most one-sided games in international soccer history.

With Lawton putting in the finishing touches at the net and Stokes and the fleet-footed Stanley Matthews running the Scot backs dizzy with dazzling footwork, England was worth every goal of its margin. Only brilliant work by goalkeeper Crozier of Brentford prevented a higher score.

Hagen of Sheffield United scored twice and Sunderland's Carter got the other goal for England which led 5 to 0 at half time.

Three of Lawton's goals came in the first nine minutes.

Yugoslavs Fight For Railway Bridge; Take Many Forts

LONDON (CP)—A major battle for the strategic Save River railway bridge midway between the Ljubljana and Zagreb in Slovenia, Yugoslavia patriots capturing several important fortified positions and killing more than 1,200 Germans, was reported today in a communique of the Yugoslav Army of Liberation.

The communique, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, also announced the storming and capture of the Montenegrin town of Andrijevica, just north of the Albanian frontier, by units of the 2nd Partisan Corps led by Gen. Petar Dobrevic.

Fierce, hand-to-hand street fighting continued in Zenica, 140 miles west of Belgrade in the heart of the Bosnian Ruhr. The outcome still was in doubt.

The bulletin described the fighting in lower Syria and Slovenia as "successful large-scale" operations in which the Germans were said to be getting severe punishment.

With Marshal Rommel reported taking over the German command in Yugoslavia, London papers published dispatches from Istanbul saying Hitler had dispatched seven additional divisions into the revolt-torn country and that Axis forces now in action there total 12 German and nine Bulgarian divisions.

Guerrilla bands operating east of Ljubljana near Zidani most demolished several enemy trains and ripped up several stretches of track, the bulletin said, and farther south in Bosnia, crack patriot columns smashed several German formations in a battle near Banjaluka.

Rommel's first action on taking up his new Yugoslav command was to drop leaflets threatening "serious reprisals unless peace and order are maintained," the Free Yugoslav radio declared.

No Ships to Carry Food to India

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—
Britain views the famine in India with the utmost sympathy, but it is difficult to decide how much shipping could be spared from the war "even for so serious a situation," Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S.
Avery, Secretary of State for India, said here.

(The mayor of Calcutta, in an appeal for help Oct. 7, said "thousands in Bengal were dying from the famine.")

A number of Indians, mostly Muslims, who attended Mr.
Avery's meeting, unfolded a banner bearing the words, "Churchill and Amery are killing—men, women and children in India."

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT-MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

There is a fresh movement in India among liberal leaders to get a quick settlement of the Anglo-Indian political crisis, which is dangerous for the war effort, and especially so since famine has descended on parts of the country to aggravate an unhappy situation.

The Indian empire—the size of Europe without Russia and with a population of 400,000,000—is the arsenal of the Orient. It is one of the most important military bases for an all-out offensive against Japan. From India we must stage the invasion of Burma, to open up China to the outside world. India is the base of great air activities which are essential to the assault on Japan.
Famine and political bitterness would make a bad combination if unprincipled people should be able to capitalize on them for ulterior purposes. No wonder military men in India are worried, and no wonder highly-placed people in the United States would give much to see the political crisis eliminated.

Bengal province with its population of 60,000,000 is hardest hit by the famine. Latest reports indicate that last week some 175 people were dying daily from hunger in the city of Calcutta.

Bengal, which is just across the bay from Burma, is chief base for the coming invasion.

Among the Indian leaders who are pressing anew for settlement is C. Rajagopalachari (better known as "C.R."), moderate nationalist who is one of the most influential men in the country.
He is a Brahmin, and so belongs to the highest Hindu caste, and incidentally is father-in-law of Dadasaheb Gandhi, the Mahatma's son.

C. R. in an article in the nationalist newspaper Amrita Bazar Patrika declares the Indians made a great mistake last year in rejecting Sir Stafford Cripps' proposals for Dominion status.
Whether they would be ready now to make blanket acceptance of the proposals without ironing out some difficult spots might be doubtful. However, I understand from important quarters that there is one thing which would work. It is sensational but probably practical, and it involves the King-Emperor.

If His Majesty, acting on the advice of his prime minister, should call on his people, both Indians and Britons, to bury the hatchet and form a coalition government in New Delhi for the purpose of the war effort, it is probable that all hands would turn to with a will. Such a government could be without prejudice to discussion of Indian claims after the war. It would in effect be a provisional government out of which the Dominion status likely would grow.

This plan naturally would involve the release of Gandhi and other leaders from prison.

The point is that most Indians regard the King-Emperor as outside politics, and he means more to the average subject than the government itself. But, of course,
His Majesty could act only if Mr.
Churchill should advise him to do so, and the Prime Minister certainly would want assurances that the Indian leaders were indeed in the right frame of mind for such a gesture.

Willkie, Dewey Differ On Postwar Planning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie and Thomas E.
Dewey, two of the leading Republican possibilities for the 1944
United States presidential nomination, made it clear today they are walking down different streets on this country's postwar foreign policy.

Willkie, Republican nominee in 1940, called Friday night for an "understanding" among all the Allied nations as "our only chance to realize man's hope for peace."

Dewey, governor of New York, weeks ago advocated a postwar military alliance between the United States and Great Britain without mentioning other Allies.

Willkie took his stand in a radio speech from St. Louis, declaring the cause of world peace would not be advanced by "defensive and offensive alliances between any two of the principal Allies."
Willkie observed: "I should like to see this country exercise its utmost qualities of leadership and moral force to bring Great Britain, Russia, China and the United States to a point of understanding where they will make a joint declaration of intention as a preliminary to a forthcoming common council of the United Nations, and eventually all the nations."

At Mackinac Island, Mich.,
where a 49-member council of Republican governors, congressmen and other party leaders recently met to draft a party postwar program, Dewey started a side controversy by urging a military alliance with Great Britain.

The former New York City racket buster told a press conference he believed a permanent military alliance with Great Britain is almost certain after the war, but added he would like to see Russia and China "in at the beginning" when the time comes to work out the peace.

ONE OF A SERIES OF ACTION PICTURES WITH CANADA'S MECHANIZED ARMY

ROARING INTO BATTLE, hurling shells into enemy defence positions, the Tank Troops are right at home in the high-speed warfare for which they are trained and toughened.

But there comes an anxious moment when the Tank Commander heads the land battleship for a pre-arranged
"harbour" to get supplies and ammunition. With enemy air-craft overhead, enemy scouts prowling on all sides, camouflage is quickly thrown up and protective guns placed in position.

Out of the dusk, right on schedule, wheels a 3-ton supply lorry in the sure hands of the Army Service Corps. Sharp-eyed gunners watch all sides and into the air, while in the half light, the men work like ghostly stevedores packing away shells, ammunition clips, food, fuel and water.

Brief minutes later, the job is done; the tank snorts away to battle and the Army Service lorry rolls away to keep another "Rendezvous Under Fire".

Modern scientific warfare demands faultless performance from both men and machines. And Ford of Canada workers —nearly 15,000 strong—give their skilful best to each operation from blueprint to final testing at Windsor, Ontario. The knowledge that the vehicles they make will serve the United Nations on all fronts is a constant challenge and an inspiration.

front will assure our fighting men the support they

'Speed The Victory'

NEARLY TWO AND A QUARTER millions of individual Canadians own Victory Bonds. Many have bought some of each of the four issues—all of which were oversubscribed—and others, perhaps, began with the third or fourth loan. But the point to bear in mind is that in practically every household throughout the Dominion one or more have invested in the future of their country, not only to make sure of Canada's effective contribution to the cause of the United Nations, but also to lay the foundations for personal security. In other words, they have provided the tools of warfare which the fighting forces need in greater volume from week to week; they have also built the nest-egg upon which to draw after the victory shall have been won. These two and a quarter millions, consequently, have proved themselves good Canadians, and good business-people by one practical operation.

This is an important consideration for all our people to keep before them as the books of the Fifth Victory Loan open on Monday. Mr. Halsey has asked for $1,200,000,000, $100,000,000 more than the minimum figure set last spring for the Fourth, the largest bond issue ever floated by the Dominion of Canada. What are the prime factors in simple detail?

First, the war is far from won and the bloodiest fighting is still ahead of us and the rest of the United Nations. This means the money is needed urgently—as much in excess of the minimum total as possible.

Second, those who already hold bonds know how useful the half-yearly interest has been to them—how it has taught them the lessons of sound thrift.

Third, and this is an imperative point, at the present time our people have on deposit in the chartered banks of Canada approximately $3,600,000,000, and of this amount $1,920,000,000 is in savings.

In the case of the latter total, of course, it is not only idle in so far as it is not helping to supply the tools on which victory depends; it is earning for its owners only half the amount in interest it would be earning if it were in Victory Bonds.

Therefore, in view of the figures we have just quoted, it will be patent to every intelligent and businesslike Canadian that Mr. Halsey should have no difficulty whatsoever in obtaining the sum of $1,200,000,000 for which he asks. It should be subscribed in the first two weeks of the three-week campaign which will begin on Monday. Thus the final days of the appeal should give ample opportunity for those who are financially able to see that all previous records—both in the number of individual subscribers and the total of the amount loaned—are substantially passed.

The eyes of all the peoples of the United Nations will be on Canada and Canadians during the next three weeks. They will be watching how we "SPEED THE VICTORY." We must not fail.

What Proof Has He?

WHEN POLITICAL OFFICIALS TAKE the platform and talk to their friends and supporters it is customary to indulge in pleasant-sounding hyperbole. Nor is any serious harm done in consequence; for fact, in the long run, has a happy but relentless way of downing fiction and reducing exaggeration to a reasonable perspective. We have in mind at the moment a few statements with which Mr. Sinclair Elliott, retiring president of the Victoria branch of the Provincial Progressive Conservative Party, regaled an audience at its annual meeting on Wednesday night.

Mr. Elliott is reported to have said that the Conservative Party reached its lowest ebb during the last few years, the loss of its prestige being due to several factors, "not the least being the vicious and untrue attacks of our Liberal friends, who, after the defeat of Mr. Bennett, purchased and gathered together the press of Canada and instituted a campaign of ridicule and libel, the like of which had never appeared in Canadian life before. A sample of this was our own Times. Up to the last few months an issue seldom appeared without some vicious editorial, all having the resultant effect of destroying our party and building up the 'isms' and particularly helpful to the C.C.F."

If Mr. Elliott has any information on which he bases his charge that "our Liberal friends . . . purchased and gathered together the press of Canada" after the defeat of Mr. Bennett, it is something about which this and other Liberal newspapers would like to learn. It is news to us, as it must be, for example, to such journals as the Winnipeg Free Press and the Toronto Star. It is usual for a lawyer, of course, to be sure of his facts before giving vent to public utterance. But perhaps Mr. Elliott is like so many other Conservatives who persist in blaming everybody and everything except themselves and the policies which they have pursued for the low ebb to which, in reality, their blind subscription to Mr. Bennett's philosophy has reduced their fortunes. While this newspaper does not plead guilty to the blanket accusation which Mr. Elliott makes against the Liberal press, especially that of "ridicule" and "libel," it unhesitatingly confesses to expressions of disagreement with any public policy judged to be in conflict with the best interests of the great majority of the Canadian people. Nothing Mr. Elliott may say on that score will influence this at all. And the Conservative Party itself, obviously, is exclusively to blame for its arrival at the "lowest ebb" of which he speaks.

Worth The Cost

SINCE SIR ARTHUR HARRIS announced early last year that Bomber Command of the Royal Air Force intended to "scourge the Reich from end to end" many night raids have proved costly in men and machines. It could not be otherwise; but the program was not launched in its planned intensity until all such considerations had been carefully weighed against the material damage that could be inflicted on the enemy's essential war industries—calculations worked out in the light of knowledge in the possession of the Department of Economic Warfare.

This policy of intimate collaboration obviously has produced results of a magnitude which only the German high command can assess in all their detail. Sufficient photographic evidence is nevertheless available to prove the effectiveness of "concentrated" and "saturation" types of nocturnal bombing. And when Bomber Command's complete "log" is published the world will learn how comparatively low was the cost entailed in the destruction of a great part of the enemy's industrial fabric—much of it permanently and a good deal of it for periods long enough to worry the men of Berlin more than they would admit.

The technique and calculation on which Bomber Command and the Department of Economic Warfare based their program, therefore, obviously served as the pattern for daylight precision bombing which the Eighth American Air Force has followed. This organization's losses are assuming a proportion which may well startle the layman; but the experts responsible for the strategy which is now complementary to the work of the night raiders evidently are not surprised when 30, 40, 50 or 60 of our neighbor's Flying Fortresses fail to return from a "scourging" visit to vital industrial areas deep in the heart of Hitler's Reich.

The "saturation" raid on Schweinfurt's great ball and roller bearing plant has attracted more than usual attention because it cost 60 machines and nearly 600 men. But if, as some authorities confidently assert, this one blow has denied the enemy the use of an establishment essential to his production and machinery maintenance program, it may well have shortened the length of the war to an appreciable extent. Moreover, there is assuredly much comfort in the fact that three score of Fortresses can be replaced in a matter of days, and the necessary crews in even quicker time. And how many troops and how many munitions would it have required to put Schweinfurt's machinery out of action by ground attack? That is the best way to look at it.

Woodrow Wilson's Hope

NOTHING MUCH IS TO BE GAINED BY wondering whether this war would have occurred if the United States had not withdrawn into her national shell in 1919 and the years immediately following. Many people in the neighboring republic are nevertheless dipping into history these days in the hope of finding something that shall be a guide for the future. Some have grave misgivings; these point to the fact that although the Fulbright resolution in favor of international collaboration in the interests of an enduring peace passed by a vote of 360 to 29, the Senate turned its back on it and decided to draw up a proposal of its own.

Not that the upper chamber at Washington is likely to run contrary to popular sentiment; it is naturally jealous of its privilege of limitless debate. But the "internationalists" are worried lest other United Nations—especially the Soviet Union—should read into this "delaying action" a dangerous trifling with fundamentals upon which it is hoped the Anglo-American-Russian conferees will be able to agree. In the meantime, however, an extract from a speech which President Woodrow Wilson delivered in Columbus, Ohio, in September, 1919, has a tragic ring in it at this stage:

"We had taken by processes of law the flower of our youth from every household, and we told those mothers and fathers and sisters and wives and sweethearts that we were taking those men to fight a war which would end business of that sort; and if we do not end it, if we do not do the best that human concert of action can do to end it, we are of all men the most unfaithful—the most unfaithful to the loving hearts who suffered in this war, the most unfaithful to those households bowed in grief and yet lifted with the feeling that the lad laid down his life for a great thing, and, among other things, in order that other lads might never have to do the same thing."

"Twenty-four years later the United States is drafting fathers for the armed forces—to help to swell the army of fighting lads in 1944 to more than 10,000,000! It is not for us to say that our neighbor is paying a price which might have been avoided if other counsels had prevailed in 1919 and thereafter. It is nevertheless a matter of public knowledge that the cost of her participation in the conflict which President Wilson hoped would never plague the world is mounting at a rate in money alone seven times greater than in 1917 and 1918. In that fact—apart from the unparalleled shock to which the spiritual fabric of civilization is being subjected—there would seem to be ample argument against a timid or equivocal approach to full and continuous international collaboration."

The real race problem is what in thunder to do about the human race.

Bruce Hutchison

THE QUEBEC GOVERNMENT

proposes to take over a great part of the local power companies. This is interesting to us here when we are in the process of taking over the B.C. Electric as a publicly-owned utility, but it is more interesting in illustrating the same approach to much larger problems.

The approach to everything in this country all through our history has been practical and pragmatic, never theoretical. We did what looked like a good idea at the time. Sometimes it was right and we let it be. Sometimes it was wrong and we changed it. Thus we allowed the state to finance our railway systems. The state built our automobile and tourist industries by building our highways. It built our trans-Canada aviation services and our radio network.

But, being practical people, we did not therefore insist that the state operate all railways as a monopoly. We did not pursue our logic to the point of saying that because the government had built the highways and made automobile factories and tourists possible, therefore it must build the automobiles and run every tourist camp by the roadside. We did not prevent private aviation or private radio.

If we had been logical, as the Europeans are logical, we would have carried one principle or the other to a final conclusion. We would either have insisted that the state leave business alone altogether and confine itself to collecting a few taxes and enforcing the law; or we would have insisted that the state, having started along that road, should continue into complete Socialism.

ETHER ONE

NOW THAT IS precisely what many people are telling us must be done.

On the one hand, we have some capitalists who fear that if the state expands its activities in any direction private enterprise inevitably will go under, though it didn't go under when the government invested before. On the contrary, the government's investments, in railways, highways and housing, for example, vastly stimulated private enterprise, which could not have prospered without them.

On the other hand, we are now told by the Socialists that if any large remnant of private enterprise remains in the country, if the profit motive is maintained anywhere, then we can have no real happiness for the workers; whereas, of course, the workers have lost their identity as a powerful class, lost their unions, lost their right of protest and agitation and reform wherever complete government control has been tried. Also they have generally been much poorer than the workers in this country who, over the years, have enjoyed the second highest living standard in the world.

We are told, in fact, that we now face a black-and-white issue in Canada which must be resolved in future elections. The road, we are told, forks here and we either go in for Private Enterprise or Socialism. This is a lie. And not only a lie denied by all our experience and all our instincts for freedom, but it is a serious barrier to actual progress. It deadens and befores our thinking about the actual business at hand. We have been thinking so much of late about mere generalities, abstractions and slogans of the Right and the Left that we are forgetting that society is not built entirely of words but also of laws and institutions.

WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

OUR POLITICIANS go about the country demanding Social Security, or Full Employment, or Reform, but they never stop to say what they mean by it. They never tell us how to effect social security, or how the scheme would work or what it would cost. They never explain how full employment is to be maintained or reform effected. Once they get into such details they are suspected of being against progress. Once anyone asks the prophets of Right and Left what they actually propose to do after the talking is over, he is accused of being a reactionary. According to today's thought fashions, you are a progressive, a reformer and an enlightened citizen if you say you are. You are on the side of a better life if you denounce the reactionaries. You are practically elected to Parliament if you assert that every man must have a job.

At some point along the road this will be found an inadequate solution of our problems. Sometime, somewhere we must decide not whether we favor a better society but whether we favor a specific social insurance scheme, including its costs; whether we believe in a higher or lower tariff; whether we want higher or lower prices for goods and higher or lower wages for workers.

We cannot settle these things by a general slogan. We cannot settle them by proclaiming that we stand by the good old system of Free Enterprise, untouched by the government (which never existed) or by government control of everything (which never existed in this country either or any free country). We shall soon have to settle down to the task of thinking, which is so much harder than our current amusement of talking.

Individuality is founded in feeling, and the recesses of feeling, the darker, blinder strata of character, are the only places in the world in which we catch real fact in the making.—William James.

"No man, for any considerable period, can wear one face to himself and another to the multitude, without finally getting bewildered as to which may be true."—Hawthorne.

Sympathy for Mr. King

From Toronto, Globe and Mail

The fell sickle of war does not discriminate between rank or station, race or creed in choosing its victims, but mows them down in an impartial swath. The greatest in the land have to share with the lowliest the sorrows that it brings to millions, and among the latest sufferers from its deadly reaping is our Prime Minister. His nephew and namesake, Surgeon-Lieut. William Lyon Mackenzie King, went down to a hero's grave in the depths of the North Atlantic Ocean when the Canadian destroyer St. Croix, on which he had done splendid service, was sunk.

He was one of the two sons of the late Dr. Macdougall King. Between the Prime Minister and his only brother the ties of fraternal affection were more than ordinarily deep and strong. Some light is thrown upon it in the foliolet preface which Mr. King wrote for "his brother's" book, "The Battle With Tuberculosis, and How to Win It." It is an open secret that when his author was incapacitated from active work by the dread scourge about which he wrote with such authority, Mr. King unselfishly undertook the support of him and his family, and assumed heavy financial responsibilities which most fair-minded people regarded as a valid excuse for nonparticipation as a combatant in the last war.

The Prime Minister, apart from the fact that the gallant young doctor was one of his nearest surviving relatives, stood, in a sense, in loco parentis to him and held him in special affection. And to a man who has no children of his own the loss of a favorite nephew will be a particularly severe blow, and the gallantry of his end will be only a partial consolation for his loss. Under the shadow of death partisan feelings can have no place, and will prove no obstacle to the universal flood of sympathy which will go out to the Prime Minister, and to which this newspaper makes its humble contribution.

MASONITE IS CHOICE FOR TABLES IN WORLD'S LARGEST DINING HALL

Above is a partial shot of the 7,000 Canadian soldiers who answer the bugle's call to meet three times daily in Webb Hall, Exhibition Park, Toronto. Part of this world's largest dining hall is shown (at right) all set to receive the khaki-clad diners.

CANADIAN-MADE PRESWOODS SERVE TROOPS AT HOME AND ABROAD

Masonite is doing a tremendous job in aiding rehabilitation in Britain; but not all its Canadian production is being diverted for service abroad. Right here in Canada there are vital needs which this versatile product must fill.

Troops must be fed and housed, trains converted into hospitals-on-wheels. A hundred and one other essential demands must be met. They are being met—and served—by Masonite. Webb Hall in Exhibition Park, Toronto, is but one instance. Here, in the world's largest dining hall—7,000 of our Canadian troops can be fed at one sitting.

Table tops of Masonite were specified for the nearly 900 tables, for this was a job requiring speedy construction . . . a sanitary material, quickly and easily cleaned . . . strong and durable.

Masonite passed all these tests with flying colours. It delivered the goods just as it has in meeting over 500 wartime requirements in bombed Britain . . . playing its part in the rebuilding of a country where one house in every five has been damaged or destroyed . . . providing temporary buildings . . . recreating hospitals and schools from blitzed wreckage . . . serving the vast need for chairs, tables, beds . . . aiding in the construction of air-raid shelters, mobile units, hospital trains.

Meeting every demand to tax its claim as the world's most versatile building material, surely Masonite today has more than earned its title, "The Wood of a Thousand Uses."

Masonite has "signed for service" with Canada, Britain . . . with all United Nations. Thus it is serving you by serving your greatest cause. In the circumstances it cannot serve you individually . . . yet. But the day is drawing nearer when Masonite will be available for the improvement of every Canadian home and building.

This is the Time!

There is a time for everything. Yes, in the history of a Nation, in the annals of a City, in the life of a man or woman . . . there is a time for everything.

And in an institution such as Spencers, where our primary function is the selling of merchandise and the service of the community, there is a time when even those fundamental activities must be subordinated to higher duties.

Men of Canada, MEN OF VICTORIA, are now on the March. And next week the faithful workers of the National War Finance Committee also will be on the march, the march to your doorstep to give you another opportunity to do all YOU can to "Speed the Victory" and to give you the opportunity to take a further share in Canada's best and safest investment.

Yes, Victoria . . . Canada expects this day that every one of us will do our duty—Buy Bonds—Speed the Victory—THIS IS THE TIME!

Fraser Latta, 218 West 26 Street, North Vancouver, and William George Attwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Attwood, 909 McClure Street, Victoria. Mrs. Fraser played the wedding music, and Miss Ruth Reynolds sang "Because."

A floor-length gown of white sheer, with a sweetheart neckline and embroidered bodice, was worn by the bride, who was given away by her father. A spray of orange blossoms held her silk embroidered veil, and she carried a bouquet of Rapture rosebuds and white heather.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jean Latta, sister of the bride, and Miss Kay Moore, were gowned in blue and rose chiffon over taffeta, respectively. Their head-dresses and chapel veils were matching, and they carried pale pink carnations. The bride's younger sister, Elizabeth Latta, and her cousin, Evelyn Lowry, were flower girls, similarly frocked in yellow and mauve or-gandy with colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, carnations, rosebuds and heather. Ray Whellams, Victoria, supported the groom, and ushers were George and Charles Street.

This being the first wedding in the new church, the groom was presented with a Bible. A reception was held in the North Vancouver Club, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon on the island.

Going-away, the bride chose a rose suit, black accessories, and a grey-furred tweed coat. Mr. and Mrs. Attwood will reside in Victoria.

5th VICTORY LOAN
A. K. LOVE LTD.

We who died . . . on the beaches of Dunkirk and Dieppe, on the desert sands of Africa, in Hong Kong and Singapore . . . from our resting places in ocean deeps or alien earth, we call to you.

We who died, Salute you

We did not ask to die. We were young, we wanted to live. After we left you, we remembered all the little things that made up living—the girls we used to dance with, robins building nests in Spring, mother knitting on the porch, the good smell of Sunday dinner in the oven—the blessedness of peace. We who died for peace ask only that you realize to the full its beauty and its worth. For, if you do, then you will finish our task for us. No matter what it costs in effort or self-denial, bring home the sooner those who live . . . that they may have what we have given up. That is all we ask of you, Canada
...we are waiting for your answer.

Navy hockey team had 33 players on the ice the other morning. There will be quite a bit of weeding out before the club gets down to its strenuous workouts but we can just imagine how one of the civilian teams in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association would welcome such a turnout. The three civilian teams in the circuit, Victoria Machinery Depot, Vancouver St. Regis and New Westminster Spitfires are going to meet up with their troubles getting clubs out on the ice but all seem to face the coming season with confidence.

Chatting to Porky Hulme and Chuck Raynor, at the arena the other afternoon, as the boys were getting in some skating practice for the Navy club during the coming season. "We will have a young, powerful club that will be hard to beat," Raynor said. "We have a couple of fine prospects for the defence positions and all the newcomers are big boys who will be able to hold their own in the toughest kind of competition."

One thing is certain—the Navy players will be in first-class condition to open the season early next month. Five mornings a week the boys are put through a strenuous session and then come up for skating practice in the afternoon. Next week the teams will get down to real tough scrimmaging. After talking to these Navy boys we feel the blue-jackets are going to have a lot to say just who finishes on top in the P.C.H.A. come next spring.

Large May Return To Lacrosse Floor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bert Large, veteran goalie for Mimico-Brampton lacrosse team who suffered a torn knee cartilage when he went down for a low shot in the second period of the first game of the Mann Cup finals last Saturday between Combines and New Westminster Salmonbellies, may play again next season.

Large was operated on Friday at the Vancouver General Hospital.

Dr. D. E. Starr, who attended him said, "There is a fair chance that Bert may play again next season, that is if he takes it easy and does nothing strenuous."

Bobby Summers, Winnipeg jockey, who is well known to Victorians for his riding on Victoria and Vancouver tracks and his activities around the local arena the past two winters, is the leading jockey at the Dufferin Park meeting now in progress. Summers, who is the contact rider for the H. C. Hatch Stable, held a seven-point lead on the pack at last reports.

Speaking of horse racing we note where George Irvine, well-known Vancouver owner, cracked down with his first winner at Bay Meadows this week when Hil-Briar got down on top. The horse must have been liked by the California fans as he only paid off at a little better than 2 to 1. The same day Irvine sent Con Jones and Palmera T. into the starting gate but they failed to place. Con Jones is the gelding the Vancouver sportsman told us to keep an eye on, before he departed south, as he expected great things from the thoroughbred.

Our hats off department to Cmdr. R. P. Kingscote and members of H.M.C.S. Naden for that $100 donation to the Victoria Minor Hockey Association for hockey promotion among the youngsters of this city. If a few more organizations and citizens will dig down in their pockets the efforts of the association to put over this worthy movement will be made a great deal easier. Responsible men are in charge of the association and if they are willing to give of their time and energy they deserve support.

Tommy Dewar Joins Rangers or Cleveland

CALGARY (CP)—Tommy Dewar, former defenceman of Calgary Stampede, who lost out to Kirkland Lake Blue Devils in the Allan Cup finals a few years ago and who helped Calgary Buffaloes win the western Canada intermediate championship at Vernon last spring, boarded an eastbound express Friday night. It was uncertain if Dewar was going to report to Bill Cook, manager of Cleveland Barons or to Lester Patrick of the New York Rangers, now in training at Winnipeg.

Youngsters Hear Plans For Staging Minor Hockey Here

Before an enthusiastic group of nearly 90 youngsters, Victoria's Minor Hockey Association, took its first definite action Friday towards the promotion of bantam, midget and juvenile hockey here this winter.

All the promising ice material was registered and it was announced by head coach Eddie Kelpin that the first practice session for the juveniles will be held tomorrow evening from 6 to 8. Midgets and bantams will hold their first workouts at the Willows Arena next Saturday morning from 8 to 9.30.

For the practices the youngsters are asked to take along skates and hockey sticks. By the first of the year it is hoped to have three teams organized in each division and start league play. The divisions are 12 to 14, 14 to 16 and 16 to 18. Ages of the youngsters are as of Nov. 1.

At Friday night's meeting, the aims and object of the association were outlined by various speakers and the boys were told how they would be expected to observe the same discipline that marked their attendance at school classes. It was also stressed the youngsters were not to allow hockey to interfere with studies.

The boys were told some of the finest coaches in Canada were located here at the present time and it was a wonderful opportunity for them to start their hockey careers under such expert instruction.

Doug Fletcher acted as chairman of the meeting with Ivan Temple as secretary-treasurer. Speakers during the evening were Fletcher, Temple, Kelpin, Ed Battell, Barney Olson, Pete Sallaway, Bill Taylor and Lee Halberg.

Detroit May Lose Carveth, Jennings

DETROIT (CP)—The world championship Detroit Red Wings, approaching the end of their second week of training for the National Hockey League season, learned that forwards Joe Carveth and Bill Jennings may soon be drafted by the United States Army.

Carveth, 25-year-old Regina product, is scheduled to report for induction next week. There is a chance that he may be rejected because of a twice-broken left leg which curtailed his hockey play for two years. Jennings, who is 26 and comes from Toronto, has received 1-A draft classification and may be called any time.

Hextall Trains With New York Rangers

WINNIPEG (CP)—New York Rangers of the National Hockey League went into their second day of pre-season training here Friday, augmented by their ace right winger, Bryan Hextall.

Hextall, who hails from Poplar Point, Man., and winner of the N.H.L. scoring crown in the season 1941-42, checked into Ranger headquarters hale and hearty, and his presence featured the club's workout.

His arrival brings the number of veterans in camp to five. Other seasoned campaigners are Ott Heller, for 13 years a standout on defence; Gordon Davidson, another defenceman, and Grant Warwick and Bill Gooden, both forwards.

"Hextall's arrival should help us out immeasurably," said coach Boucher, "and, by the way he was travelling on the ice, he appears to be headed for another great season."

Another new arrival at the camp was Billy Warwick, Grant's younger brother, who played several games for Rangers last season while serving with New York Rangers in the Eastern U.S. Amateur Hockey League. The younger Warwick is a left winger.

Strange Hockey Situation Intermediates in N.H.L.

By CHARLIE EDWARDS
TORONTO (CP)—The services' near-monopoly on senior amateur hockey in Canada is having strange results. For example, player trades between intermediate clubs and the National League, Sweeney Schirner has deserted Toronto Leafs in favor of Calgary's intermediate Buffaloes, but Billy Hudson of last season's Buffaloes has been called up to Detroit Red Wings. Maybe the Swift Current intermediate buzz, Steve (Sieve) Buzinski, would have another try at that New York Ranger goal job. Jackie Hamilton, with a half-season's experience in the N.H.L., calls the Toronto rookies "the kids." Jackie is an old man of 18.

The fishermen are saving bait at Wilmont, Ont., with the cast, heavy and duck system. The long government dock at the Georgian Bay town is lined with fishermen these days—all using no other bait than blind faith and catching herring by the dozen. The herring run is "on" and the fish are so thick they can be snagged with a bare hook.

The events were held in front of a streamlined concrete stadium hung with British flags and packed with Canadians in tropical uniform and some of their senior officers.

Soldiers from a western infantry formation captured the group championship and a lieutenant-colonel from Vancouver was presented with a cup by the acting Canadian commander, who handed prizes of cigarettes and special fibre championship discs to individual winners.

The spectacle provided by a composite pipe band which included Pipe Major Edmund Esson of Vancouver, brought, perhaps, the loudest applause.

Cpl. D. R. Cameron of Sudbury, Ont., won the 880 yards in 2:14 with Pte. G. Yellow Fly of Alberta's Black Wood Reserve, thrd. Lieut. W. R. Childers of Avonport, N.S., won the 100-yard dash in 10.5 seconds and the 220 in 24 seconds flat. In the 200 Pte. J. S. Nicol of Vancouver was second.

WINNER LOSES LIFE

Nicol, since reported killed in action, won the 440 in 55.9 seconds.

The obstacle race was won by a team of L.Cpl. H. L. Hall of Vermilion, Alta.; Ptes. G. A. Price, C. A. Spracklin, both of Edmonton, and J. Purves of Brandon, Alta. Cpl. J. A. Fox of Regina, Sask., leaped 5 feet 4 inches to win the high jump.

Cpl. A. V. Bowerman, Vancouver, hopped, stepped and jumped 38 feet 11 inches with L.Sgt. F. Bytner, Moose Jaw, Sask., second, and Lieut. M. A. Martin, who later was wounded, third.

Bytner won the broad jump with 18 feet 5 inches, with Martin and Bowerman, second and third, respectively.

In the tug-of-war finals an infantry team, coached by RSM. Allan Sashe, Vancouver, was out-pulled by the winners, led by Sgt. Gus Chabot, Montreal.

Basora In Surprise Victory Over Zivic

DETROIT (AP)—Jose Basora, Puerto Rican welterweight from New York, hammered out an upset 10-round victory Friday night over Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh before 6,000 fans. Basora weighed 151½, Zivic 150.

Zivic, a 2 to 1 betting choice, fell victim to a stalling left hand and a stinging right uppercut. There was no knockdown. Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland gave Zivic one round, the first, and called the ninth even. He gave Basora the other eight. The two judges gave Basora all but two rounds which they called even.

The gross receipts were $13,380, with $10,015 earmarked for boxing's service athletic fund.

Sportsmen Enjoy Coho Fishing At Cowichan

Good Catches With Salmon Run At Peak

Annual pilgrimage of Pacific Northwest sportsmen to Cowichan Bay for the coho fishing, recognized as the finest sport fishing of its kind offered anywhere on the continent, is at its peak.

Reports from the bay tell of splendid catches of salmon in recent days, and this week-end is expected to see the waters from the C.N.R. loading wharf to Separation Point crowded with boats.

Owing to the lack of rainfall this year's run into the bay was several weeks later than usual. With the Cowichan River—low the fish remained out in deep water. However, at the present time the bay is literally alive with salmon with additional runs reported in Sansum Narrows.

The fish are reported rising well to the buccal fly with coronation, blue and white and red and white the most popular. Lot of fish are also being taken on plugs with Martin red gills and Heddon-Bassers in the majority.

One of the finest catches was taken by three Seattle businessmen and one from San Francisco, Roger Clipping, Abe Parker, Bob Addison and "Slim" Cortez landed 1,000 pounds during six days.

Others reporting good catches in recent days, especially of coho, include: Ian May, Victoria; Capt. J. B. Acland, J. B. Morgan and T. R. Hull, Cowichan Bay; Capt. V. Logie, Bathurst, N.B.; Dr. R. Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Purvis and W. S. Maguire, New Westminster; K. Schenfeld and R. Constantine, Seattle; Capt. Arthur Shewell, Laguna Beach, Cal., and Mrs. A. Laing, Vancouver.

Cape Cod Takes Burch Memorial To Equal Record

BALTIMORE (AP)—Cape Cod, the somewhat erratic race, won the stables of G. C. Greer, from the ninth running of the W. P. Burch Memorial Handicap at Pimlico Thursday, marking the fourth triumph for a Maryland-owned horse in the five stakes already run during the four state tracks' consolidated meeting.

A crowd of 13,193 saw the five-year-old son of Bostonian charge through the stretch to win the $7,500 purse and boost his winnings for the year to $14,425 while accounting for his fourth victory in 15 starts.

Forced to go wide while running in second place as the field of 12 entered the stretch, Cape Cod and jockey Eddie Arcaro sped down the straightaway to earn a 2½-length victory over Calumet Farm's Quen Es.

In third place, another length and a half back, came Howe Stable's Cassis, while Longchamps Farm's Baby Dumping was fourth.

The latter two were coupled in the wagering, both being trained by Preston Burch, son of the man for whom the race was named.

Cape Cod carried 111 pounds over the six furlongs in 1:12 which equalled the record for the stake traditionally run over the heavy Bowie oval.

He returned $10, $5.40 and $3.40 for $2 at the mutuels.

Schriner Plays With Calgary Buffaloes

CALGARY (CP)—Management of the Calgary Buffaloes, 1942-43 intermediate champions of western Canada, announced Wednesday that Dave (Sweeney) Schriner, former Toronto Maple Leafs star, would be playing with them this season. They also signed Irving Frew, who a few years ago played with Montreal Canadiens. Schriner will not forsake his position here, and announced some time ago that he would not be returning to the Leafs. Billy Hudson and Dan Sprout are lost to Buffaloes, Hudson going to Detroit Red Wings and Sprout to Cleveland Barons.

Billy Woodhouse Has Two Winners At Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Singing Heels, lightly regarded Canadian horse, and Country raced to a dead heat here Friday in the feature race at Bay Meadows.

The standout favorite, Present Arms, took the show money. Singing Heels ridden by Billy Woodhouse of Vancouver, B.C., went into the lead shortly after the start and clung to the advantage all the way. Country challenged at the head of the stretch to finish in the first dead heat of the meeting, after the favorite, Present Arms, had been shaken off at the stretch run.

Pertussin increases natural secretions in the respiratory tract to soothe irritated membranes. It improves ciliary action and loosens sticky phlegm. Safe and effective for both old and young. WORK HOURS spell "Victory"

To supply our men on the fighting fronts, to assist the United Nations and to maintain essential services on the home front, requires every ounce of energy of the Canadian public.

This is total war, with liberty the prize. Canadians realize we can not win that prize without hard, steady work.

Under a recent order, issued in pursuance of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations, thousands of Canadians—employers and employees—are expected to forego some part of their peacetime liberty in regard to employment matters, in order that the Nation's war machine may increase its pace—rather than operate at less than capacity.

In order to conserve the working forces in war industries and essential services, Employers and employees alike are urged to strike a blow for freedom! Keep production at full capacity!

This order requires that no male employee be released, nor may he separate, from a job in either of the two top labour priorities—"A" and "B"—without first securing special permission from a National Selective Service Officer.

The order bears equally on employer and employee: both are restrained from any wastage of man hours through needless labour turnover.

An employer is obligated to post a notice in the form prescribed, where his plant or undertaking is covered by the order, so that his employees will be informed of the regulations as applying to them.

All are urged to comply in the national interest. Penalties are provided for failure to comply.

Anyone wishing information is requested to enquire at the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

Needed In Time of War

Text: Exodus 20: 8-11; Isaiah 58: 13, 14; Mark 2: 23, 24

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

AMONG the most memorable words of Jesus is the great invitation, "Come unto Me, and I will give you rest."

Jesus was a Jew, and the religion that He brought to men, in teaching and example is rooted and grounded; as Jesus constantly reminded those of His day, in the great principles and teachings of the Old Testament. He had come not to destroy, but to fulfill. When He promised rest to men He promised what men needed. Food, and water and rest are the three essentials of life; and they were the three essentials that Jesus offered men in the spiritual realm: "I am the bread of life"; "If any man thirst let him come unto Me and drink"; "Come unto Me and I will give you rest."

So far as I know, the Jewish religion, and the Christian religion, as an outgrowth from it, are the only religions that have given a proper and essential place to the need and sacredness of physical rest. Irreligion in our modern life is doing much to abolish all the gain that the institution of the Sabbath brought into the world. For the most part in laws governing our industrial life, and in the conditions that trades unions have been able to establish, the principle of a rest day has become recognized, even among those who do not attach any sacredness to it. But to one who recognizes what the Sabbath has meant religiously and socially, the fact that the day has become primarily a day of pleasure-loving habits and ways, that can hardly be said to be restful or recreational, is appalling.

I was brought up in a home where Sabbath observance was strict—perhaps a little too strict. Yet Sunday was anything but a day of gloom. We went to church and Sunday school; we had music in the home; we had good reading; sometimes we had friends and visitors. But the day was restful. One began the week's work on Monday refreshed and rested; whereas many of the typical Sabbath-breakers of today are so used up from the strenuous exertions of Sunday outings that they are of little use on Mondays. When I contrast the quietude, peacefulness, and the restfulness of the home that I knew with the toll, turmoil and restlessness that Sunday means for masses of people today, I am tempted to stress, and try to recover something of that old-time strictness.

Yet one recognizes that that old-time strictness was not always ideal. There were homes in which the Sabbath was a day of gloom; and there were habits and teachings that made it a burden instead of a joy. Much of the present irreligion concerning the Sabbath began in reaction against that strict, lifeless and joyless formalism. In spite of Christ's plain words, there were those who wished to make man for the Sabbath, instead of the Sabbath for man. They were the modern successors of those ancient formalists who had so mistaken the nature and purpose of the day of rest that they forbade healing afflicted mortals on the Sabbath, or the doing of good, when it did not conform to their narrow ways.

We shall never in our modern and complex society recover the simple and strict Sabbath of primitive Jewish and Christian communities, but can we recover the spirit of the Sabbath?

Churches Support New Victory Loan

All clergymen of the Protestant churches in Canada have received a request to set apart tomorrow as Victory Loan Sunday, in an effort to augment the supreme effort to end the war victoriously. This letter was signed by the Mos Rev. Derwin T. Owen, Prime of the Church of England in Canada; by Rev. H. Beverley Kechem, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; by Rt. Rev. J. R. P. Slater, Moderator of the United Church of Canada; and by Rev. H. H. Bingham, General Secretary Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, representing Baptists of Canada.

The letter to the clergy reads in part:

"As you know, the Government of Canada is calling upon the people of this country loyally to support the Fifth Victory Loan, now being launched, and has interwoven representatives of the churches expressing the hope that the clergy will co-operate to the fullest possible extent. "We feel there are many reasons why our people should support this supreme effort on the part of the Home Front. Our sons have given themselves in this struggle for freedom. We must not hesitate to encourage our people to invest their savings in support of these sons in their sacrifice."

Most tax-paying members of the Canadian army will find no increase over last year in their 1943 taxes and in the cases of officers up to the rank of lieutenant-colonel there will be actually a decrease in the amount as compared with 1942.

Mayor Unfurls Flag At Loan Ceremony

Despite the deluge in the early morning the Fifth Victory Loan parade culminated its downtown tour with a flag raising ceremony to mark the opening of the campaign Monday.

Hundreds of men and officers from the three services formed an imposing guard of honor when Mayor McGavin unfurled the flag in the presence of civil officials, National War Finance representatives and throngs of spectators, outside the City Hall.

Bands from the R.C.A.C. and the R.C.A.F. from Vancouver led the parade through the streets and added martial music to the dedication ceremony. Master of ceremonies was Capt. H. R. Lumby.

"Ample replacement of material and manpower must always be ready," said Mayor McGavin. "This is why the Victory Loan is for $1,200,000,000. Victoria is asked for $4,200,000.

"We in our area have always gone over the top, and I feel sure we can and will carry on this way. I don't need to tell you what is wanted now.

"Up to now, no enemy has ever set foot on this continent, and we want to keep it this way, so 'speed the victory' by buying war bonds, which work for victory and work for you."

Community Chest

Community Chest-Salvation Army home front campaign records will be closed Monday, officials at headquarters announced today. All workers are requested to make their returns by that day.

Any future donations will be received at Welfare House, Pandora Ave.

To date collections have exceeded $68,000. The objective this year is $85,000.

Wards 5, 6 to Proceed With Secession Plans

Despite the ruling of Saanich Council in committee last Wednesday that no plebiscite would be held on proposed administrative changes, Wards 5 and 6 Ratepayers' Associations are going ahead with plans to petition ratepayers to force secession.

Wards 5 and 6 agreed to the desirability of becoming unorganized territory. The joint meeting of ward ratepayers' association representing rural wards which have declared themselves in favor of secession was held Friday night.

After lengthy consideration Wards 5 and 6 agreed the wards in their entirety would proceed with the petition to obtain secession. Ward 4 representatives felt that until they could find lines to segregate the rural from the urban areas they could not make any definite move although they were in favor of secession.

Petition forms will be circulated as soon as they are ready. Sydney Pickles presided over the joint meeting.

James Bay Hotel Not Taken Over

James Bay Hotel will not be taken over by the National Housing Administration, it was revealed Friday, despite the Order-in-Council commandeering the premises passed nearly two weeks ago.

The announcement was made following conferences between F. W. Nicholls, director of the administration, and the Sisters of the Order of St. Benedict, who operate the establishment as a home for aged under the name of St. Mary's Priory.

Mr. Nicholls flew from Ottawa. It was found the building was already filled with elderly people and it had been decided to leave it alone.

The plan was to use the hotel as a clearing house for incoming families until suitable accommodation could be found. Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse, of the National Housing Registry, said that she had no idea how or where she would place new families now that this accommodation would not be available.

She has one family with nine children looking for accommodation, in addition to many others. Another case she cited was a family with four children living in a shack at Cordova Bay who will be forced to move because the tide is coming up into the house.

Choral Union Holds 10th Annual Meeting

Impact of modern war and thinking on former customs and ways of thought was the theme of an address given by A. S. Miller, retiring president, to members of the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union, at its 10th annual general meeting, held in Memorial Hall, Friday night.

"Old customs and old ideas are gone by the board, and our mental and spiritual outlook is today vastly different to that of the days during the last war," he said. "At that time our people seemed to me to have been more serious-minded and more heedful of the things I have mentioned than is the case today."

Continued support of music and arts was recommended by Stanley F. Bulley, conductor, who said that the union was always intended to be a community effort for all chorists of the city.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Capt. Wilfrid Ord, president; Mrs. William Ellis, vice-president; Miss I. Plowman, secretary; and C. Leg, treasurer.

Mrs. F. Nattrass, Mrs. T. Simons, Mrs. S. Plumbridge and H. I. Curtis were elected members of the executive committee.

Mrs. Alice McGregor Seeks Council Seat

Mrs. Alice McGregor today announced her intention of making her 14th bid for aldermanic office at the civic polls, bring to seven the number seeking five two-year terms and one single year post.

"If I needed more convincing proof of the necessity for changes in the civic government set-up," said Mrs. McGregor, "the answer was definitely given yesterday while police court was in session."

"However, that is but one department."

"Encouraged by the public's consistent yearly increased support these many years, I hesitate to give up the fight to have women elected to the council. So, putting the question squarely up to hundreds of my faithful supporters, in every case a very definite 'No' was the answer. So, again I am a candidate for aldermanic office at the December elections."

City Moving to New Tax Collection Mark

City tax collections, totaling $1,285,015 at the close of business Friday night, moved toward new records for recent years on a percentage basis as Victorians paid in a way which maintained consistent gains over last year.

The figure was $12,219 above that for the similar period last year, although the levy for 1943 is $1,438,427, an amount well below the $1,448,985 established in 1942.

This year far more property owners beat the deadline on which the first penalty is applied than in 1942. Since then the increase in collections has not been so material.

Hosking Explains Youth Commission

In an effort to see that the situation will never again arise where "a generation that had no place in a democracy is called upon to sacrifice itself to save that democracy," the Y.M.C.A. in Canada has set up the Canadian Youth Commission. R. S. Hosking, general secretary of the national council, explained to a public meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Friday evening.

It is necessary, he declared, to start now to lay the plans for a postwar world that will be fitted to the needs of young people, and for this reason a commission of 37 leaders in Canadian life has been set up to study and make recommendations for this new life. He said that the commission is entirely autonomous and not bound in any way to the Y.M.C.A.

There are seven main fields of investigation that the commission and its sub-committees are pursuing he explained, namely: Employment, physical and mental health, education and vocational training, recreation and leisure, family living, citizenship and morale, and religion and life philosophy.

To aid in formulating the recommendations, he said, it is the plan to set up provincial committees composed mainly of younger people who will "channel youth opinion and desires to the committee to be incorporated in the recommendations." He hopes to set up such a provincial committee in British Columbia soon and also asked that a sub-committee to hold a "watching brief" be set up in Victoria. This committee would work with the provincial committee.

As a means of finding the needs and desires of youth the commission plans to study the opinions, attitudes and activities of youth; study opinions of selected youth leaders; study the programs and plans of agencies and institutions serving youth; and finally to study statistical data on Canadian youth.

A nominating committee, to name members on a Victoria committee for the youth commission was set up consisting of Miss Marion Foster, Y.W.C.A.; Miss Irene Burkill, Y.P.U.; Dr. R. J. O'Neill, Jack Syne, Y.M.C.A., and Grant Patterson.

B.C. Provides Fish For Canada Troops

Canadian fish will continue to bulk largely in the staple diet of Canadian troops overseas, according to Hon. Ernest Bertrand, K.C., federal Minister of Fisheries, here today from Ottawa.

"We are shipping 1,200,000 cases of salmon, and 1,000,000 cases of herring overseas this year," the minister said.

"In addition, we see requisitioning 9,000,000 pounds of frozen cod fillets and 25,000,000 pounds of salt cod for United Nations consumption."

Commenting that Canadian fisheries "are certainly not in the red," Mr. Bertrand said that owing to the cycle the salmon run in B.C. waters this year had not been as prolific as in the two previous years.

GOOD HERRING RUN

He looked for a good herring run for the season just started.

He plans to fly north as far as Prince Rupert, stopping off at the more important fishery centres along the B.C. coast.

He also intends to go to Seattle to meet members of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

Asked whether the Japanese would be allowed to resume fishing on the B.C. coast after the war, Mr. Bertrand was noncommittal. "That's a problem that will have to be settled after the war," he said.

Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, will address the Gyro Club Monday in connection with the Fifth Victory Loan.

McGill Grads Dine With Engineers

The record of Canada's war effort with its "astronomical figures" in wartime production, gives the Canadian people "an idea of what can be done after the war," K. M. Cameron, M.E.I.C., chief engineer of the Department of Public Works and president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, told a joint dinner meeting of the institute and the McGill Graduates' Society, held in Empress Hotel, Friday evening.

Fifty-six men and women, members of the institute and the Graduates Society, with their wives, attended the dinner, at which Mr. Cameron, who was accompanied by Mrs. Cameron, brought greetings from Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill and chairman of the Committee on Reconstruction, and from Fraser Keith.

"The whole picture of postwar problems is so broken up, that each should give his attention to that part to which he can make some contribution," Mr. Cameron said. "There were 10,200 in the armed forces before the war and now there are 722,000; there are 1,036,000 on direct war production."

"If four dollars of every 100 dollars that will be expended on the final plans were spent now, it would mean having everything organized and ready to get on with the job as soon as the war ends," Mr. Cameron said, as he advised giving architects and engineers ample time to work on the plans in advance of the cessation of hostilities.

Kenneth Reid, M.E.I.C., president of the Victoria Branch of the Engineering Institute, presided. Dr. Hermann Robertson, president Victoria branch, McGill Graduates Society, and G. M. Irwin, city engineer, also spoke. A. Dixon, deputy minister of public works for British Columbia, represented the provincial government.

Guilty Verdict

AC2 Ernest Johnson, R.A.F., was found guilty on a charge of committing an act of gross indecency with another male person by an Assize Court jury which returned with a verdict at 9 Friday night following four hours' deliberation.

Johnson and John Frank testified for the defence.

The accused was remanded for sentence at the end of the Assizes by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady.

Cars driven by Colin Tyrell,

3368 Salisbury Way, and E. H. Jackson, 2423 Hamlet, sustained damage at 10.30 Friday night in a collision on Oak Bay Avenue near Elgin Road. No one was injured.

Saanich Ratepayers' Association will meet in McKenzie Avenue School Monday at 8. The Saanich council, having rejected the petition for a plebiscite to abolish the ward system, makes it necessary to make other plans to continue the fight.

'Stage Door Canteen' Opens On Monday

Cheryl Walker, who stars with William Terry as the romantic team in Sol Lesser's "Stage Door Canteen," a soldier's love story set in the colorful atmosphere of New York's popular rendezvous for servicemen of the United Nations, will open at the Plaza and Oak Bay Theatres on Monday, formerly was a Hollywood extra and stand-in for Veronica Lake, Claudette Colbert and Madeleine Carroll. More than 40 headline entertainers of screen, stage and radio, including Katherine Cornell, making her first screen appearance, Katharine Hepburn, Helen Hayes, Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt, Gypsy Rose Lee, Ethel Merman, Paul Muni, Merle Oberon, George Raft, Ethel Waters and Ed Wynn, appear as themselves in this spectacular production.

Cary's Latest Role Proves Picturesque

Noted for his versatile ability to play a wide variety of roles, Cary Grant is seen as a carefree, tricky but likeable gambler in his new RKO Radio vehicle, "Mr. Lucky," coming Monday to the Atlas Theatre.

His adventures in seeking a bankroll with which he can take his gambling ship, the Fortuna, to South American waters, and his stormy romance with a Park Avenue society girl, lead to the suspenseful action of the film, which is said to be his best offering to date.

Laraine Day has the feminine lead, and important roles are portrayed by Charles Bickford, Gladys Cooper, Henry Stephenson and the new comedy find, Alan Carney.

Make Movie Star Into Good Boxer

The authenticity involved in the making of motion pictures was demonstrated once again when the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, "Ringside Maise," starring Ann Sothern and coming to the York Theatre Monday for an engagement of three days, went before the cameras at the Culver City studios.

Walter Abel Joins Ranks of Big Stars

With his characterization in Paramount's great romantic drama, "So Proudly We Hail," which comes Monday to the Capitol Theatre, with co-stars Claudette Colbert, Paulette Goddard and Veronica Lake, Walter Abel undoubtedly has arrived in the ranks of Hollywood's most versatile actors.

Abel, who for a time played little but district attorneys and then hit a run of comedy parts such as the harassed editor in "Arise, My Love," the tipsy ad man in "Skyline," and a slapstick villain in "Star Spangled Rhythm," has, in "So Proudly We Hail," one of the most powerful dramatic roles ever handed an actor.

Marjorie Lawrence Great Traveler

Marjorie Lawrence, Australian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company who will be at the Royal Victoria Theatre Oct. 27 on her return to public life last fall caused a sensation in music circles throughout the country. Critics unanimously agreed that her voice had become even richer since her enforced rest through infantile paralysis. With an indomitable will and tremendous courage she has more than fulfilled the demands of the public upon her. Traveling has always been one of her great joys and her recent flight to Havana brought back nostalgia of other seasons.

Miss Lawrence will be the opening event on the Hilker Attractions—Greater Artists Series. Tickets are now on sale at the box office in Fletcher's Music Store.

The hectic romance of a fighter pilot posing as an idle civilian on leave and a girl camera expert who tries to make him go to work, is gaily told in RKO Radio's new tune-film for Fred Astaire and Joan Leslie, "The Sky's the Limit," now at the Dominion Theatre, with the two stars exhibiting some spectacular dance routines.

CADET THEATRE

Thirteen changes of costume, each one more glamorous than the last is the score Mary Martin runs up in her newest Paramount comedy with music, "Happy Go Lucky," now at the Cadet Theatre. Collectively, Mary's wardrobe represents a veritable rainbow of color, none of which is lost in the screen translation, since "Happy Go Lucky" is a Technicolor film.

FIFTH VICTORY LOAN FOR $1,200,000,000 OPENS MONDAY

Over
CANADIANS ARE ASKED TO

SPEED THE VICTORY

TODAY after four years of desperate preparation, the United Nations are finally armed to the teeth and coming to grips with the enemy in that final gigantic battle which can only end in victory. Today finds Canada girded for war on a scale never equalled by any nation of like population.

We have more forces, better armed and equipped than ever before in history. We have more ships, planes, tanks, guns, in action or ready for action. We have more factories, more machines, producing the things that win wars. We have more Canadians engaged in war production than at any previous time.

Yes, our great war-making machine has grown to giant proportions. Now we must keep it operating at full capacity if we are to crush our enemies in the shortest possible time. That is what the Fifth Victory Loan is for. Greater sums of money than ever before are required—to keep our armed forces supplied, to operate our factories and shipyards, to speed production in our mines, in our forests and on our farms.

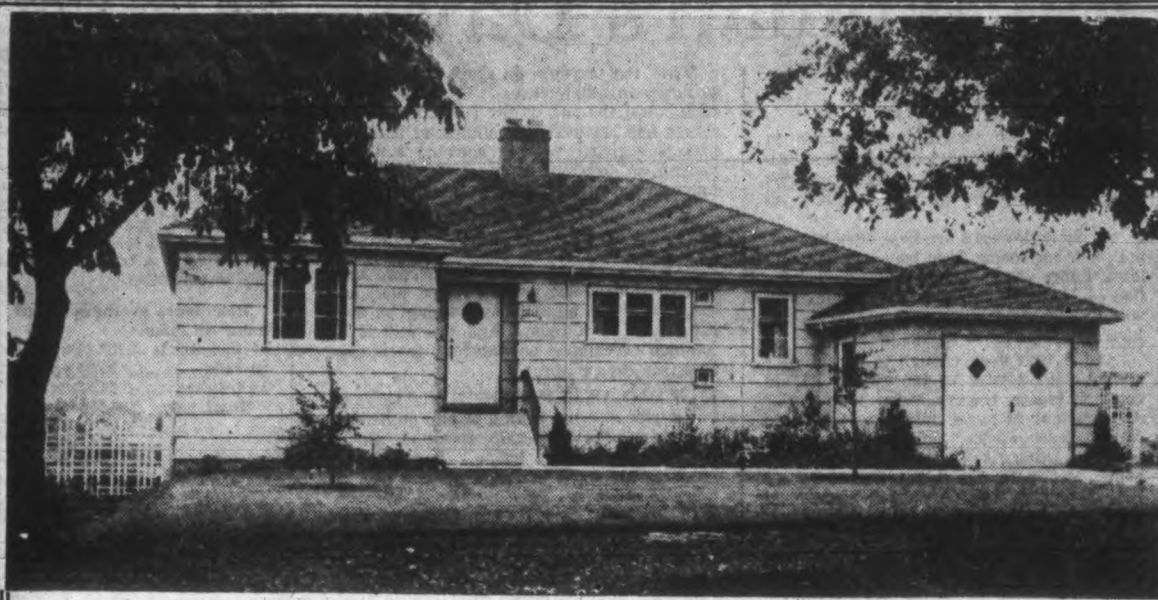

5,200,000 Canadians are now earning money throughout the length and breadth of this country. Canada asks 5,200,000 Canadians to buy Victory Bonds. The Fifth Victory Loan needs the united support of all. Buy Victory Bonds, and—Speed the Victory.

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you or place it with any branch bank or trust company. You can also buy Bonds through your employer for cash or on the Payroll Savings Plan. Or send your order to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Any one of these agencies will be glad to give you every assistance in completing your application. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger.

Governor To Open Arts, Crafts Show

Members of Island Arts and Crafts Society, together with those of Victoria Pottery Club and the Weavers' Guild of Victoria, will hold their annual exhibition at the Crystal Garden, Oct. 23. It will be opened at 3 by Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward.

The Weavers' Guild intends to arrange practical demonstrations during the exhibition. The whir of the spinning wheel and the click of the weaver's shuttle will be heard daily. The gradual unfolding of the material will increase the admiration of the product of the loom in the form of knitting bags, scarfs, table-runners, cushion-covers, cloth and rugs.

An example of flax grown in B.C. and spun and woven by a member of the guild will be shown.

Card weaving will also be seen as practiced by the Egyptians of ancient times, as well as by the modern Icelanders.

It is probable, also, that the local clay may be seen spun on a potter's wheel and fashioned into beautiful forms. In some cases, glazes made from local materials, will be found to grace the clay products.

Pictorial work in oil and water colors, pastels, and sculpture will be shown by members. Non-members are invited to exhibit work and should communicate with the secretary, Mrs. Hobbs, E 7756.

D.S.O. Hero Praises Britain's Fortitude

Claiming that the "accident of geography" alone has kept Canada from the violent suffering at the hands of Hitler that other countries have had to bear, Flt. Lt. Michael Layton, R.C.A.F., D.S.O., told government employees gathered in the assembly room for a Fifth Victory Loan rally that Hitler's hatred was not for "our own way of living."

Flt. Lt. Layton, who has won distinction for his participation in many battles in the Atlantic, notably the sinking of at least three submarines, told his story of civilian suffering and privation in England, of life as a navigator of a four-engine American bomber, and the need for continued co-operation on home fronts.

"The nearer you get to the actual scene of operations the more you realize it is not only bombers, the men who fly the planes, but the many people behind them, who like yourselves perhaps, may think they have dull jobs, who make each successful attack," he said.

Of England and their tremendous effort, he spoke eloquently. Food restrictions, clothing rationing and overlong hours for many make life difficult, but England has had to fight for her very existence, he said.

"The worst feature is having, not only loved ones, but the ideals like that," he said snapping his fingers. "The only reason we over here have not had to face the same is that we are 3,000 miles away by sea, and England only 22 miles."

Speaking casually of his own experiences, Flt. Lt. Layton, said he had been "fortunate" in having a little bit of fun with the U-boat wolf-packs. He described the danger of supply lines being broken, and said that drastic measures were taken to prevent this at all costs.

"A little white streak like a speedboat" was the young flier's description of first sight of a submarine.

"You get up-son of him, if you can, and approach him as far as possible without him seeing you, so that at the right moment the pilot may press the button that releases the bomb."

"Flumes of water five seconds later . . . and then 10 minutes dropping markers to indicate the place for destroyers that may want to follow up the sub," he

O.T.C. Class 27 Sings Swan Song At Gordon Head

Officers' Training Centre at Gordon Head ceased to exist following the final graduation ceremony this morning, when 175 second lieutenants received their qualifying certificates.

Abolition of O.T.C. here officially becomes effective by the end of the month.

Usual colorful ceremony was restricted today because of the weather. Following the march past the presentation of qualifying certificates was made in the drill hall.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends of the officer candidates.

Class 27 included nine Victorians: D. B. Fields, P. A. Taylor, A. D. Stevenson, J. R. Doherty, A. E. Parfitt, K. J. Davis, F. W. Jones, A. M. Davis and J. D. Forbes.

"This class is the swan song of Gordon Head," said Col. Ferrie, in his address to the men.

"Our Officers' Training Centre ceases to exist as you march off the parade ground."

"Over 5,000 officers have passed through our centre over a period of three years. When you go to your advanced training centres, make inquiries as to the standing of Gordon Head candidates."

No More Bulk Smokes To Fighting Fronts

B.C. Overseas Tobacco Fund of the Trade and Industry Department has been advised by W. A. McAdam, Agent-General for B.C. in London, that Canadian military authorities rule it impracticable to accept and forward bulk orders of cigarettes and tobacco for the fighting fronts by movement control.

In future all shipments of cigarettes and tobacco from England must be individually wrapped and addressed, and distributed through the Canadian army postal corps. In view of this hazard the B.C. Overseas Tobacco Fund cannot assume responsibility in guaranteeing the safe arrival of parcels in Italy, Sicily, North Africa and other fighting fronts.

As in the past, however, the B.C. Overseas Tobacco Fund will continue to guarantee delivery of all orders to the United Kingdom.

A.R.P. Activities

District 3—Wardens will meet at 8 Monday in the Britannia Hall. Arrangements for the season's activities and equipment distribution will be discussed.

AT TOP OF LIST

"You will find they are at the top of the list in every case. This was backed up by the findings of a recent survey on officer production and is recorded in black and white."

"Our present war is the fastest-moving one in military history. Officers must make snap decisions, and they must be correct. If they are not, the result is death for the maker and his men. Your time is short before you will be on the active front. Can you afford to neglect one minute of it?"

Col. Ferrie dealt with the duty of officers in the care of their men.

"This," he said, "is a sacred duty entrusted to an officer. If he neglects it, results are apparent at once."

"How often have you heard the statement: 'The men will not work for him.' The only one to blame is the officer, and he should be relieved of his command at once."
